Hi :)

If you're reading this, you care.

And so through this document,
I'll carefully open up about myself and my practice in order to help you make an informed decision

No matter what,
I hope you find what you're looking for:

Who am I?

(Without going into existential crisis +_+)

Addhar Card Name : Saloni

Preferred and Chosen Name : Sindhu

Pronouns : They/Them

Born in kshatriya caste - middle class family, I am an Anti-Caste Practitioner

Am an Intersectional Feminist - NeuroQueer (Neurodivergent Queer)

based in Pune.

Am a complex trauma survivor and live with chronic health issues

These labels are important for me and to all folks who wish to share therapy space with me because they shape and influence the way I perceive, experience and react to the world, as an individual and a professional.

Is my practice as a therapist ethical?

Yes, it is.

Pohonch (Feb 2022), the name of my Mental Health Care venture, is my attempt to make ethical, quality mental health care accessible.

My practice is grounded in ethical practices of Mental Health Care Act 2017 and APA

- I have completed my Masters in Clinical Psychology from Mumbai University (2021)
- I take regular supervision from my supervisor : a mental health professional who's more experienced than me to help me with my professional concerns and updation
- I inform all my (potential) clients about their rights and responsibilities before starting and through their journey of therapy with me.
- I maintain strict confidentiality/secrecy with all my clients. This means, I don't out anything discussed in the sessions. With some legal/safety exceptions, all of which will be informed to the client before starting therapy with me.

How does therapy with me sound or feel like?

We'll know as we go :)

I aspire to make it a safe space for you and us.

Therapy space for me is a co-created one. Where the most important thing is the relationship between the client and the therapist. Our alliance to facilitate your goals and health.

Our willingness to show up in the sessions with vulnerability and the chaos we have, and find our safe languages and spaces.

And then, learn to speak these outside of our 60 minutes sessions.

But here're the schools of psychotherapy I draw from:

relational, trauma focused, systemic, feminist, strength based, narrative, gestalt.

Work Experience and Medium of therapy

- I understand that I work well with supporting folks who are struggling with : Anxiety, Marital Concerns/Seperation, Intimate Partner Violence, Grief (loss of a loved one, relationship, identity) , Depression, Self reflection, Understanding and working on complex trauma, suicidal ideations and self harm
- I have 3200+hours of experience in 1-1 counseling/therapy (as of May 2026)
- I am fluent in 3 languages: English, Marathi, Hindi
- I offer online video sessions (Google Meet) and in-person sessions in Pune City.

Working days:

- I work 4 days a week : Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.
- I offer only 5 sessions per day, hence there are 20 therapy slots per week.
- In order to have a regulated therapy space I suggest my clients to take weekly sessions, but you can choose otherwise depending upon your comfort/resources.

Session Fees:

I have different 3 pricings, 2 fixed charges for clients residing in India and one fees scale from clients residing abroad.

For Clients living in India :

- Concessional fee : 1300 INR

(Total 4 slots; two for students and two for low/no income women and queer folks)

- Full Fee : 1600 INR Online 1850 INR in-person

For Clients living Abroad :

- 3000 INR (Sliding scale for students)

*Pay as you can: You can pay more than 1600 INR if you can afford it. With that, I'd be able to provide more sliding scale slots to those who can't afford them. Which means by being honest with your affordability, you are facilitating someone else's health care journey :)

Though, unfortunately,

If you wish to start therapy but can't afford my charges, I have 6 more therapists as my associates charging between 500-1600 INR. Please feel free to Whatsapp me on 7666727825.
